The Eye 4/4 125BPM

She gave me the eye
Ill really don't know why
Guess I was too shy
To follow it back beyond its fire

She gave me a nod
I felt kind of odd
Guess I could have regard it
Before I went out on that slinky wire

So here we go again
Dancing on the roof
With our red red shoes
Stretching on the truth
Stretching on the truth

I was waiting for something
Some kind of miracle to share
Searching for some reason
One reason Before I lay down my head and cry

So I fell down on my knee
Felt kind of free
Flying like a bee
Towards that flower of fire

So here we go again
Dancing on the roof
With our red red shoes
Stretching on the truth
Dancing on the roof

Then she gave me the eye
Guess I'll just can't deny
That I didn't even try
Before I went out on that slinky wire

So here we go again
Dancing on the roof
With our red red shoes
Stretching on the truth
Stretching on the truth

So here we go again
Dancing on the roof
With our red red shoes
Stretching on the truth
Stretching on the truth
